

Excerpt from Money, October 30, 2006

http://biz.yahoo.com/hmoney/061030/102306_8392466.html?.v=1

Money

Finding renewable-energy funds and judging retirement funds.

Monday October 30, 6:12 pm ET By George Mannes, Money Magazine senior writer

Question: Is there a pure-play energy fund that invests only in renewable-energy stocks like solar, wind, hydroelectric and biofuels? I usually prefer the low cost structure of index funds. - Jim Campbell, Ortonville, Mich.

....

Your options are the PowerShares WilderHill Clean Energy Portfolio exchange-traded fund....

The risk: You're going to own a lot of small stocks in a cutting-edge field where failure will be common. As Internet stock funds taught us a few years ago, you can correctly predict that an industry is poised for explosive growth - and still get burned in the market.

....